Dominique James is one of today's finest and most sought-after professional photographers. In the span of 15 years, he has photographed almost all of the famous people in the country from celebrated entertainment personalities and top fashion models to high-ranking politicians and prominent socialites. He has also photographed the most adored names in Philippine sports. Dominique's photographic images have appeared on the cover and inside pages of countless newspapers and magazines. He has photographed multi-awarded singers and musicians for concert posters and for the cover of some of the best-selling music albums of all time. He has photographed the brightest stars of top-grossing movies. He has also done fashion photographs for editorial features and print ads of the best fashion designers. In addition, he has done numerous commercial, advertising and corporate photography. Dominique also regularly conducts several popular models and photographers workshops. Frequently, he serves as a judge and is a consultant to photography contests, model searches, beauty tilts, and talent competitions. To date, he has already presented more than 45 one-man and group photography exhibits. While he is best known for his celebrity portraits, his other favorite subjects include still life, nature, food, and architecture.
